FIVE Architect Search Criteria

Education:

All architects hold a professional degree. Select an architect that excelled academically. Academic excellence translates to professionalism, and indicates the tendency to deliver on attention to detail, design, and documentation excellence. All employees at foxleyarchitecture excelled academically.

Location:

All architects are licensed in the state they practice. An architect located near your project site will be more familiar with local regulations codes and permit process. If your search engine lists foxleyarchitecture, we are close by.

Design acumen:

All architects will believe they are good designers. Hire foxleyarchitecture that has won multiple awards in different categories, evaluated and recognized for producing quality work by its peers.

Experience:

All architects have had a three year internship. Hire an architect that has practiced while employed for a variety of firms, and has managed a variety of project types. foxleyarchitecture brings a wide and deep range of experience.

Communication:

All architects have email and phone number. Hire an architect that will guarantee a response within one business day, has a reputation of good communication and provides written meeting notes and contracts to clarify and confirm your desired scope and goals.
